

RUSSIANS GAIN VICTORY OVER THEIR TEUTON FOES

Pierce Lines On Two Mile Front and Capture Many Prisoners

WAKING UP IN WEST

Renewed Activity On All Fronts Indicates Beginning Great Movement

Associated Press, Jan. 28.—On the Bukovina-Rumanian front, between Jacobini and Karapolog the Russians delivered a victorious attack which resulted in piercing the lines of the Teutonic allies over a front of nearly two miles.

The Russians took numerous prisoners and a considerable amount of booty. Berlin announces the withdrawal of the Teutonic forces along the Golden Bystritsa river, saying that numerically superior Russian forces made it necessary.

British and French Successful. Between Lies Pargues and Calonne, north of Verdun, the French carried out a successful attack against the Germans, taking parts of trenches from the crown prince's troops, while north of the Somme river, British attacks captured German trenches and the British carried several successful raids.

Airships Active. There has been considerable aerial activity on the western front, and the British report four German machines destroyed and one driven down.

Artillery activity in the Austro-Italian theatre and artillery and raiding parties are in progress in Macedonia, while in the Riga sector of the Russian front there is considerable fighting with both sides claiming repulse or attack.

Fighting for Kut. In Mesopotamia the British and Turks continue to fight for Kut-el-Amara, and the British report the recapture of Turkish trenches.

British Lost Cruiser. London, Jan. 28.—It was officially announced, tonight, that the British auxiliary cruiser, Laurentie, 14,892 tons, gross, was sunk off the Irish coast, Thursday, either by a mine or a submarine.

Twelve officers and one hundred and nine men were saved.

PLANS FOR NEW CHURCHES

Cocoa, Jan. 28.—Rev. Father Gabriel of Fort Pierce was in Cocoa Wednesday calling on his many friends. The father has had charge of this parish for seven years. The parish extends from the St. Lucie river to Indian River City, and includes churches in Fort Pierce, Fells-

UNWILLINGLY ETHEL BYRNE IS BEING FED

Sentenced To Prison, Declared She Would Starve, But Officials Won't Let Her

New York, Jan. 28.—Mrs. Ethel Byrne, who began a hunger strike when sentenced last Monday to thirty days at Blackwell's Island for spreading birth control propaganda, is described tonight by Commissioner of Corrections Lewis, as progressing well under gentle and forcible feeding.

Commissioner Lewis said that he constantly gets alcoholic and drug addicts, who have been forcibly fed, as the rules do not allow him to permit prisoners to commit suicide.

He added, "The only difference between Mrs. Byrne and the others is that Mrs. Byrne has some one on the outside giving out statements about her and us."

THREE DEAD; SCORE HURT

Are Taken To Memphis Hospitals After Collision of Saturday Night

Memphis, Jan. 28.—Three dead and more than a score of injured were brought to Memphis hospitals today as a result of a collision late last night, between a St. Louis Southwestern engine and a Rock Island passenger train bound from Little Rock to Memphis.

The collision occurred at Mounds, Arkansas, and six of the injured are seriously hurt.

The dead are: R. L. Leonard, of Memphis; A. H. Williams, of Memphis, and Benjamin Owings, of Forest City, Arkansas.

mere, Malabar, Tillman and Rockledge. Material has been purchased for churches in Eau Gallie, Vero and Okeechobee.

LONG HOURS FOR CONGRESS UNTIL THE END

Steering Committee Marks Out Program of Hard Work To Avoid Extra Session

Washington, Jan. 28.—With less than thirty working days remaining of the sixty-fourth congress, the senate democratic steering committee today decided to hold daily sessions of the senate from 11 in the morning until 10 at night, beginning February 1.

It decided to drive away on the essential appropriations and the revenue bills and to undertake the big administration measure as time permits.

The word was passed around that President Wilson does not want an extra session, and that he will probably not call one, even if the much desired legislation fails at this session.

The revenue fight begins in the house this week, and the preparedness legislation is getting under way.

CAPTURED ONE BANDIT AND ANOTHER SURRENDERS

San Domingo, Jan. 28.—It is reported here today that American marines yesterday captured the bandit, Evangelista, in the interior near Macoris, and scattered his band. It is also reported that the bandit, Chaca, surrendered at Macoris.

The recent bandit raids near Macoris have been the only serious disorders since January.

WILL ENLARGE THAT INQUIRY INTO LEAKS

New York, Jan. 28.—Emphatic declaration by Representative Denny, of New York, that there was a leak on President Wilson's recent peace note and a promise by Representative Chipperfield of Illinois, that he would insist that the congressional inquiry should extend to leaks on presidential messages, generally, came tonight while plans were being made for a resumption here, tomorrow, of the leak hearing.

A WILD STORY CAUSES A RIOT

El Paso, Jan. 28.—Mexicans, mostly women, angered by stories that Mexican women crossing the international boundary must submit to a gasoline bath and that American photographers were taking pictures of the nude, caused a riot at the Mexican end of the international bridge today and several shots were fired and shouts of "Viva Villa" were heard.

Carranza officials claimed there were no casualties, but one detailed report said one Mexican was killed.

THE PEOPLE DEPOSED COSTA RICAN PRESIDENT

San Jose, Costa Rica, Jan. 28.—Alfredo Gonzales, president of Costa Rica, was deposed from office Saturday by military forces of the capital supported by a number of citizens, and Frederico Tinoco, minister of war was chosen provisional executive. Perfect order attended the deposition.

Gonzales is a refugee at the American legation. The people are claiming that he tried to be re-elected contrary to the constitution.

PADEREWSKI IS DETAINED WILL ARRIVE THIS MORNING

Paderewski, the famous pianist, is due to arrive in the city over the Florida East Coast railway at 9 o'clock this morning on his private car, Gressmore, and will be accompanied by Mme. Paderewski.

The great musician is to appear at the Paramount theatre this evening and an elaborate program has been arranged for the affair. He was scheduled to reach the city yesterday but was delayed.

Mr. Whipple of "Leak" Inquiry Smiles At Stock Exchange Magnates' Confusion

SAMUEL F. STREET, SHERMAN L. WHIPPLE, HENRY G. S. NOBLE

On the first day of the House of Representatives Rules Committee "leak" inquiry in New York City Sherman L. Whipple of Boston, counsel for the committee, put on the grill Samuel F. Street, chairman of the Stock Exchange Clearing House, and Henry G. S. Noble, president of the New York Stock Exchange. He told them he wanted records of all deals on the exchange between Dec. 10 and Dec. 23, 1916, during which period the "leak" speculation is believed to have taken place. Shocked at the demand these officials called a meeting of the board of governors at once, but Mr. Whipple just smiled. He smiled when he told them he was going to the bottom of stock speculation during the period.

KING ALFONSO WAS IN PERIL ORANGE AND GREEN UNITED

Attempt Made To Wreck Royal Train But Spanish Ruler Was Very Lucky

Madrid, Jan. 28.—An attempt on the life of King Alfonso was made today by placing an iron beam on the railroad track near Grenada, where the track starts down grade.

A freight train was running ahead of the royal train, and the freight engineer removed the beam. Neither train was damaged.

The police have arrested two men, one of whom was found a code of letters from Barcelona.

NOTED TRIAL BEGINS TODAY

Frank Rice and Hugh Alderman Will Face Jury In the Circuit Court

The trial of Frank Rice and Hugh Alderman, the two men who were indicted for the murder of the three deputy sheriffs at Everglades tank in the early morning of September 17, is scheduled to begin in the circuit court this morning and one hundred and fifty men have been summoned from which number the jury will be selected.

The famous case has attracted widespread attention on account of the Homestead bank robbery which occurred in broad daylight on September 15 last and the subsequent chase for the four men who committed the crime. It was during this chase that three members of the sheriff's posse were killed at the railway station a few miles south of Florida City.

Of the four men who are alleged to have committed the robbery two were killed on the west coast, while Rice and Alderman were taken prisoners and indicted for murder. Rice was badly wounded but is in a fair way to recover while Alderman surrendered before any injury was done him by the pursuing officers.

The two accused men have retained Judge G. A. Worley as their counsel and a bitter fight will be made to acquit them of the murder charge.

HAPPENINGS AND VISIONS

At Moore Haven the Past Week Made It Most Notable In Section's History

Never since the birth of Moore Haven, fifteen months ago, have there been so many important and epoch-creating features as those which took place during the past few days at this fast-growing town.

First came Dr. Howard Kelly of Baltimore, head of the Kelly hospital, and one of the chief surgeons in John Hopkins hospital, and who has earned an international as well as national reputation as one of the greatest physicians and surgeons in the world. He and his two daughters spent several days at Moore Haven, and became so enthused over the future of the town and country that he invested over $40,000 in farm land and city property. Accompanying him were E. G. Sewel and Chas. W. Lee of Miami, who purchased one block of business property in the town.

Following this party came Dr. Clower, of the firm of Wade, Clower & Wade, contractors for the Atlantic Coast railway line. Dr. Clower motored in from Arcadia, bringing with him Mr. Whidden, of Jacksonville, who had been given the contract for clearing the right of way for the railroad between Moore Haven and Palmdale, and a large force is now at work on this part of the construction. An engineering crew arrived the following day to set the stakes for the terminals and sidings at Moore Haven. Dr. Clower stated that his firm had received instructions to push the work with all possible haste on the Moore Haven line, which they expect to have completed by August 1st.

Next of importance was the arrival of thirty-five delegates from the Florida State Drainage association, which had just held its annual meeting at West Palm Beach. These able men expressed surprise and astonishment at the wonderful fertility and development in this section. They had heard something of the fertility of the Moore Haven country, but were wholly unprepared to find over 2,000 acres of rich lands under actual cultivation, with many thousands more all reclaimed and ready for the farmer, and a growing city of several hundred people, all of which had taken place within fifteen months.

Mr. Altland, of Oklahoma, representing the greatest Broom Corn producers in America arrived Thursday and secured 1,000 acres on which his company will plant the entire acreage in corn immediately. Mr. Altland had investigated all Florida and selected Moore Haven as the best land in the south for his enterprise.

The First National Bank of Moore Haven, recently organized, let the contract for the new bank building, fifty feet square, and two stories high, the first floor given over for banking purposes, and the second for offices, all of which have already been applied for.

The electric light plant turned on lights for the first time.

The Woman's Club of Moore Haven gave its first banquet Tuesday evening. One hundred people enjoyed this very successful affair.

The crowning event of this busy week was the arrival of the most distinguished group of men who have ever visited the south, Dr. C. V. Piper, Agrostologist Bureau of Plant Industry, of Washington, and Mr. Oakley, his assistant; Dr. E. M. Nighberty, of Washington, director in charge of Florida tick eradication; Dr. W. F. Ward, Washington, senior animal husbandman; C. S. Ucker, of Baltimore, vice-president Southern Settlement and Development organization; Senator Terrill, of the attorney general's office at Tallahassee; Prof. P. H. Rolfs, dean of University, Gainesville, Fla.; J. M. Scott, professor University, Gainesville, Fla., and J. M. Burguiere, manager Southern States Lumber and Lumber Co., with offices at West Palm Beach. Mr. Burguiere was the host of this distinguished party, and came to Moore Haven by way of the Palm Beach canal on the state boat, Transit, as the guest of F. C. Elliot, chief drainage engineer of the state of Florida.

This party of expert and scientific men spent the day investigating the soil and products of Moore Haven, and in the evening addressed an audience of two hundred people, presided over by James A. Moore, in the new theatre building.

These men unanimously declared that they had never seen anything in the world to compare with the soil, products or possibilities of this wonderful country now ready for the farmer and investor, and predicted that the Moore Haven country is soon to become one of the most populous and prosperous districts in the United States.

Learned That the Governor Has Given His Formal Sanction To Movement

THE NAVY DEPARTMENT

Will Now Be Asked For Necessary Papers and Full Equipment

Governor Sidney J. Catts is said to have approved of the application for the formation of the division of the naval militia, and official notice of this is expected to reach the city in time for a called meeting of the Miami unit, which will be held in the lobby of the new Fidelity Bank & Trust Company, at 7:30 o'clock tonight.

Tonight's meeting will include a musical entertainment and the affair will be attended by a large number. The entertainment committee has prepared an interesting program for the occasion and the gathering will be a most important one.

The adjutant general has already acted on the application for the formation of the division and the matter has been turned over to the governor, who is said to have approved of the proposition and forwarded his approval to this city, where it will probably be received in time for this meeting.

When Governor Catts' approval is received, the necessary papers will be forwarded to Washington and the navy department will be asked for uniforms, boats, small arms and such other supplies as are furnished by the government. The department will also send a representative of the navy department to Miami just as soon as the application is approved and the organization is formed.

Miami has already secured enough signatures to the roster for the company, and the organization will be in readiness for the members to take part in the navy maneuvers off the Atlantic coast during the coming summer.

While sufficient names have not as yet been secured to form an entire division, the officers of the local militia organization have assurances that a large number are awaiting the last call and the roster, which only lacks a few more signatures, will be filled just as soon as the requisition for supplies is sent to the navy department.

An invitation is extended to all young men who are interested in the matter to attend the meeting tonight when it is expected that many additional members will be secured and the division completed.

DENOUNCES CONTENTION

Of Germany That Deportations of Belgians Made Necessary By British Blockade

Washington, Jan. 28.—Belgian Minister Hevenith tonight issued a statement denouncing as untrue Germany's contention that the deportation of Belgians for enforced labor is a social necessity due to unemployment arising from the British blockade.

Minister Hevenith blamed the condition, on Germany's seizure in 1915 of seventeen million dollars' worth of raw materials, also on the charge that Germany is levying eight million dollars per month tax on Belgium, which is larger than the peace time tax.

He declared that Germany deliberately caused the conditions which she now claims warrants deportations, and that a hundred and twenty thousand Belgians have been deported.

He accused Germany of numerous other violations of international law regarding Belgium.

DR. SIBERT VISITS METHODIST CHURCHES

Fort Pierce, Jan. 28.—Rev. J. D. Sibert, presiding elder of the Miami district, of the M. E. church, was in the city last Monday afternoon and night. He was here presiding over the first quarterly conference of the Methodist church held in the evening. A most interesting and profitable meeting was had and was thoroughly appreciated by those participating. Dr. Sibert reported church matters over the entire district as starting off the year as nicely as could be expected.

Suffrage Pickets Give Up Vigil At The Hague

The Hague, Netherlands, Jan. 28.—Correspondence of The Associated Press.—The suffragist picket, with its score of motto-bearing and yellow-beribboned women has vanished from the entrance to the Dutch Parliament. For long weeks they had stuck to their posts, rain or shine. Holland is apt to be wet at all times; mostly so in the fall, but the women kept their vigil standing, drawn up in line on deal planks laid on the edge of the arched sidewalk. They came from different parts of the country to take their turn on sentry duty, sometimes traveling long distances for the purposes. The guard had become a familiar sight to the Hague public, and more particularly to ministers and parliamentary deputies.

Inside the building their president, Dr. Aletta Jacobs, accompanied by one of her followers, had kept faithful watch occupying a box placed at her disposal by the chairman of the chamber himself. Each morning she drove up to the chamber in her automobile, alighted and turned to inspect the company of the saluting guard. One day she petitioned the astonished chairman of the chamber to be appointed government commissary, charged to assist the Prime Minister in dealing with the suffrage article of the constitution during the deliberations of the chamber.

When the suffragists withdrew, they fired a last shot at parliament, in the shape of an address protesting, "in the name of thousands and thousands in the country," against the fact that the popular chamber should have finally passed this portion of the revised constitution without acknowledging women's rights.

"We feel deeply indignant," declares the Women's Suffrage Association, "that the interests of all women have been sacrificed to those of a small percentage of men. The stream of fine words in which the importance of women's suffrage for the state was demonstrated by the prime minister and by many deputies, has turned out to be but empty sounds. It has been acknowledged that women's suffrage lies in the spirit of our times, that it must and will speedily come also in this country, and it is incomprehensible that courage should have been lacking to grant the vote to women in this constitutional revision. This inconsequence of the second chamber compels women to resume the struggle in the country, a struggle which will be harder and bitterer than ever."

However, the women are not entirely disappointed, for under the revised constitution just passed members of their sex will be eligible for parliament, for the provincial councils and for the council of state. Moreover, the constitutional bolt has been removed from the door that bars the way to actual women's suffrage; if the bills in question finally reach the state book, women will be able to get the coveted vote by an ordinary legislative measure, that is, a bare parliamentary majority, which was before impossible.

Opposition was offered by various members of the right even to these concessions. Votes for women were objected to as in conflict with the calling of women as wife and mother, by the orthodox, old-fashioned, conservative Dutchmen.

The prime minister, Mr. Cort van der Linden, who is himself in favor of women's suffrage in principle, had the parliamentary wisdom to take what he could get and he refused at present to embody votes for women in the constitution, on the ground that women's suffrage would have to be universal if placed there at all, so that all women, even those who did not desire it or were opposed thereto, would be called upon to go to the polling booth. He apparently thinks more suffragist educational work among women is needed, and that the vote should be conferred by

OBITUARY

A. C. Dittmar.

Fort Pierce, Jan. 28.—Few deaths have occurred in Fort Pierce that have produced as much universal sorrow and regret as has that of A. C. Dittmar, who passed away at his home on Magnolia street in this city last Wednesday night at 9 o'clock, the immediate cause of his death being a stroke of apoplexy.

The deceased was born in Wisconsin sixty-one years ago this coming September, and he lived until coming to Florida in 1882, locating at Oxford. In 1888 he was married to Miss Cora Hood at Oxford, and in 1889 he came to Fort Pierce where he has since resided.

Five children blessed this union, four of which are living, the other having died while an infant. Those surviving him are Blanche, Jonnie Van (Mrs. C. B. Knight) Beatrice, and Hoodie, a son and the youngest of the family, all of whom were present at his death, except Beatrice who was visiting relatives in Wisconsin, but who arrived shortly after her father had been buried.

The funeral was held from the house, Rev. C. B. Glazie of the First Baptist church officiating and Revs. L. F. Chapman and S. F. Reade participating. Music was by the Baptist and Methodist church choirs. Perhaps one of the largest crowds that ever attended a funeral in Fort Pierce was present to pay its last respects to the deceased. He was a Mason, an Eastern Star, a member of the Woodmen of the World, a Macabee, and a member of the Woodmen Circle; all of these organizations attending in a body.

Samuel Barnett.

Samuel Barnett of Urbana, Ohio, 85 years old, died at his apartments in Miami yesterday afternoon. He came here with his two daughters, Misses Cora and Emma Barnett ten days ago suffering with pneumonia.

She is very anxious that a large number be present as the meeting is for the consideration of important business.

LADIES' AID

The Boulevard division of the Baptist Ladies' Aid society will meet on Tuesday afternoon with Mrs. W. H. Peeples, 317 Seventh street.

PRIMARY DEPARTMENT MISSIONARY SUNDAY

Yesterday was missionary Sunday for the primary department of the Presbyterian Sunday school and the little children were very much interested in the talk by Mrs. Clifton D. Benson on the subject for the day—the American Indians—this lesson being made most realistic by the illustrations of tiny paper Indians.

Mrs. Benson asked the children to earn a small amount of money during the coming week for these Indians, and to bring it to Sunday school next Sunday prepared to tell how it was earned.

A little Indian canoe was passed for the day's offering while the responses and song were given.

The children were delighted when one of the teachers, having a birthday to celebrate, sat in state in the tiny birthday chair while the birthday song was sung.

Another interesting feature of the session was the teaching of the lesson, "a day at Capernaum," with the aid of the sand table. Tiny fish and waterfowl, and little paper boats in the miniature Sea of Galilee, small flat roofed houses and figures of the Lord and those whom He helped, gave to this lesson a realism not always obtained, and impressed the story on the minds of the children.

HERALD S. E. SEES STATION LATE AT NIGHT

Mrs. Cantor, Travelers' Aid Matron Doing A Splendid Useful Work

The eleven-twenty was half an hour late. The few tourists who were waiting for the night train from the south were huddled down half asleep against the iron arms that divide the long benches. In one corner a man with a roll of blue bedding had already taken off his necktie and his shoes and was sleeping, bent over until his head seemed perilously near cracking off completely.

And in the other corner Mrs. Cantor, the Miami Travelers' Aid matron, who had settled down for a restful minute between trains, was aroused from her twenty winks by the curiosity of the S. E. as to the nature, manners, kind, quality and characteristics of those Who Enter Miami by Night.

And Mrs. Cantor, in her always gracious manner, was delighted to talk about her work which she has found so variedly interesting and which she herself has made so infinitely worth while.

Of course it was evident from the start that Mrs. Cantor's great trouble was the host of incoming tourists who have made no room reservations and who throw themselves on the Travelers' Aid matron in despair as to any possible places to spend the night.

Mrs. Cantor recently has taken it upon herself to make the rounds of the hotels before going on duty, just to find out what rooms are available for the night. Her chief complaint, and justly, is that those private individuals who have rooms to rent do not turn the information in to the people, such as the Chamber of Commerce, who are in need of that information.

Mrs. Cantor herself would be glad if householders would let her know about their rooms so that she can direct people to them without sending them all over town first.

GRILL SUPPER

Mr. and Mrs. George S. Reid entertained with a grill supper at the Royal Palm hotel Saturday night, thirty-one persons taking their positions at the table.

The color motif, pink and lavender, was prettily carried out in decorations, hand-painted place cards and ices. Radiant roses banked in asparagus ferns and other verdure, made a charming setting.

The guests included: Mr. and Mrs. E. G. Sewell, Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Reilly, Mr. and Mrs. Charles W. Lee, Mr. and Mrs. George W. Moore, Mr. and Mrs. James H. Gilman, Mr. and Mrs. Rand, of Detroit; Mr. and Mrs. H. K. Dobson, of Columbus, Ohio; Judge and Mrs. John C. Gramling; Mrs. Walter E. Flanders, of Detroit; Mrs. George B. Van Cleave, of New York; Miss Roberta Meade, of Wheeling, W. Va.; Mr. and Mrs. H. Grant, of Detroit; Mr. and Mrs. Crate D. Bowen, of Miami; Messrs. Robert Zoll, F. H. Rand, Stranahan, Thomas Vredenburg, Hillburg and Kantner.

ENTERTAINED AT DINNER

J. H. Boyd of Fond du Lac, Wis., entertained with dinner last night at the Gralynn hotel in honor of Judge J. H. McCrory of Fond du Lac, who also is visiting in Miami.

FIFTY CITY GUESTS TO FACE HIS HONOR

An even half hundred arrests were made by the police up to midnight, and this morning's session of the municipal court will probably be a busy one. Practically all of the arrests were due to drunkenness or disorderly conduct while there were a few assault cases.

One negro was arrested for cutting another with a bottle, while several were arrested for gambling and sundry minor offenses.

THAW IS INSANE, SURGEON DECLARES

Examined Him to Learn if He Could Undergo Extradition Hearing

Philadelphia—Harry K. Thaw, who has been in St. Mary's hospital since January 11, when he attempted to end his life, was declared insane today by John Wannamaker, third chief surgeon of the police department.

The physician with Lieut. Theodore Wood went to the hospital to determine whether Thaw's condition was such that he could be arraigned in extradition proceedings, brought by the New York authorities, where he is under indictment charged with kidnapping and flogging. Frederick Grump, a Los Angeles schoolboy, Dr. Wannamaker remained with Thaw for some time, but failed to get a statement from him. When he left the prisoner's room he said Thaw was insane.

"Whether Thaw's insanity is temporary or permanent, I cannot say," he added. "He is irrational and appears to have no recollection of having attempted to end his life. His talk is incoherent."

When Dr. Elwood R. Kirby, Thaw's physician, was told of Wannamaker's decision, he said:

"There is no doubt Thaw's mind is clouded. I have paid little attention to his mental condition, however, for I have been trying to build him up physically."

The wounds on Thaw's throat are almost healed, and a few livid scars will be the only reminder of his suicidal attempt. It will be many weeks before he can be taken from the hospital, according to Dr. Kirby.

ally came in with its number of tourists and immediately Mrs. Cantor's knowledge of vacant rooms was taxed to its utmost. Two women traveling alone and without advance reservations she put into a carriage, whose driver she knew could be relied upon, and sent to the hotel which, earlier in the evening, she had found had just one room left. Out of one eye, meanwhile, she had been watching a young girl who had alighted from the train alone and one could see the relieved expression cross her face when the girl's mother and father came around the corner. Otherwise the young girl would have been perfectly safe in the station from the minute she arrived, since Mrs. Cantor would have been looking after her.

Then there are the old ladies who have to wait all night long for the early morning trains. Mrs. Cantor has helped many of them. And since there is no place in the station where an old person, or where a sleepy child may lie in comfort, Mrs. Cantor has beguiled the use of the wheeled chair from the baggage room more than once.

Old ladies and young girls and women and children alone, to help them in dozens of ways, from looking up rooms and relatives and friends to getting milk for the children, all these are commonplace things to Mrs. Cantor, who almost forgets to tell about them.

But she hoards an increasing number of odd and funny happenings from the old lady of seventy-three, who confided to her that she had buried four husbands, and was on her way to Tampa to marry the fifth; the man who left a written description of his wife "and three or four children," he couldn't be positive which, so that Mrs.

Personal Mention

Mr. and Mrs. Charles H. Miers of Creston, Iowa, are visiting Mr. and Mrs. Lon Worth Crow. Mr. and Mrs. Miers have spent many winters in California and are more than surprised and delighted with Florida. They will go to Cuba from Miami.

Mr. and Mrs. H. K. Mallory and Mr. and Mrs. Albert M. Day came up from Miami, where they are spending the winter yesterday and are the guests of Mrs. Robert C. Black at her lake front cottage for a few days. Mrs. Black brought her guests up for the Breakers concert yesterday morning and for tea in the coconut grove in the afternoon.—Palm Beach News.

George H. Fearson of New York, general counsel for the Western Union Telegraph Company, is expected to arrive at the Royal Palm hotel on February 1st, accompanied by Mrs. Fearson for a month's sojourn.

George W. Allen left yesterday for the Magic City, where he will visit for the next few days.—Key West Journal.

Mr. and Mrs. Will Kline, Mr. and Mrs. O. Chambers, Mr. and Mrs. B. F. Freeman, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Mast, C. G. Griffin and J. H. Dunlap motored to J. S. Walton's and John Myers' places, eleven miles south of Miami Sunday, where a very pleasant day was spent and a very satisfying picnic style dinner was greatly enjoyed. Mr. Walton and Myers' people are from Kansas City, Mo., and are farming on the south marsh, and their crops are looking very fine. Mr. Kline and Mr. Chambers drove the autos.—Fort Lauderdale Herald.

Mrs. William Jennings Bryan, of Miami, will give an address on suffrage in Fort Lauderdale on Friday afternoon, February 9th, says the Fort Lauderdale Herald. She is coming under the auspices of the Woman's club, but everybody, both men and women, are invited to attend. People from other towns in the county are also invited to come and hear her. A meeting place large enough to accommodate all will be secured and there will be no charge for admission.

Mr. and Mrs. T. M. Lett, Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Savage and Mr. and Mrs. Kenyon Savage, who are visiting here from Richmond, Va., motored to Palm Beach yesterday in Mr. Lett's new Cadillac car.

H. E. Wright of Sidney, O., who came to Miami early in the season, has become so infatuated with the place that he will locate here permanently, and has sent for his wife and family. Mr. Wright has engaged in business here.

Dr. Ednah A. Betts, Miss Helen Louise Lyon, Mrs. A. R. Betts and Miss Anna Betts form a party of people from Sidney, O., who have come to Miami for the season and may consider locating here permanently.

Miss Helen James of Springfield and Miss Hester Wieman, of Youngstown, O., are here for the season, as are also Mr. and Mrs. James, of Springfield, O., who are on their way to Cuba for a visit.

NOTICE OF ANNUAL STOCKHOLDERS' MEETING

Miami, Fla., Jan. 17, 1917.

Notice is hereby given that the annual meeting of the stockholders of The Pan American University Association will be held in the office of the Pan American College of Commerce in the City of Miami, in the State of Florida, on Monday, February 5th, 1917, at 7:30 o'clock in the evening.

Cantor could send them on to his new home for them in the Redlands; the man of sixty who was meeting the twenty-year-old girl who was to be his bride and who had never seen either her or her picture and who, since Mrs. Cantor to help him pick her out, all these things make the long wait from the 11 o'clock to the 2 o'clock trains seem short, when one can listen to Mrs. Cantor tell about them.

And other happenings, funny and tragic; and queer and romantic that hurry through the station that is not only the gateway to Miami but the clearing house for human nature; all go under the keen and observant and kindly gaze of the Travelers' Aid matron, whose work, in the short month since the Woman's club created the position, has proved itself needed over and over again.

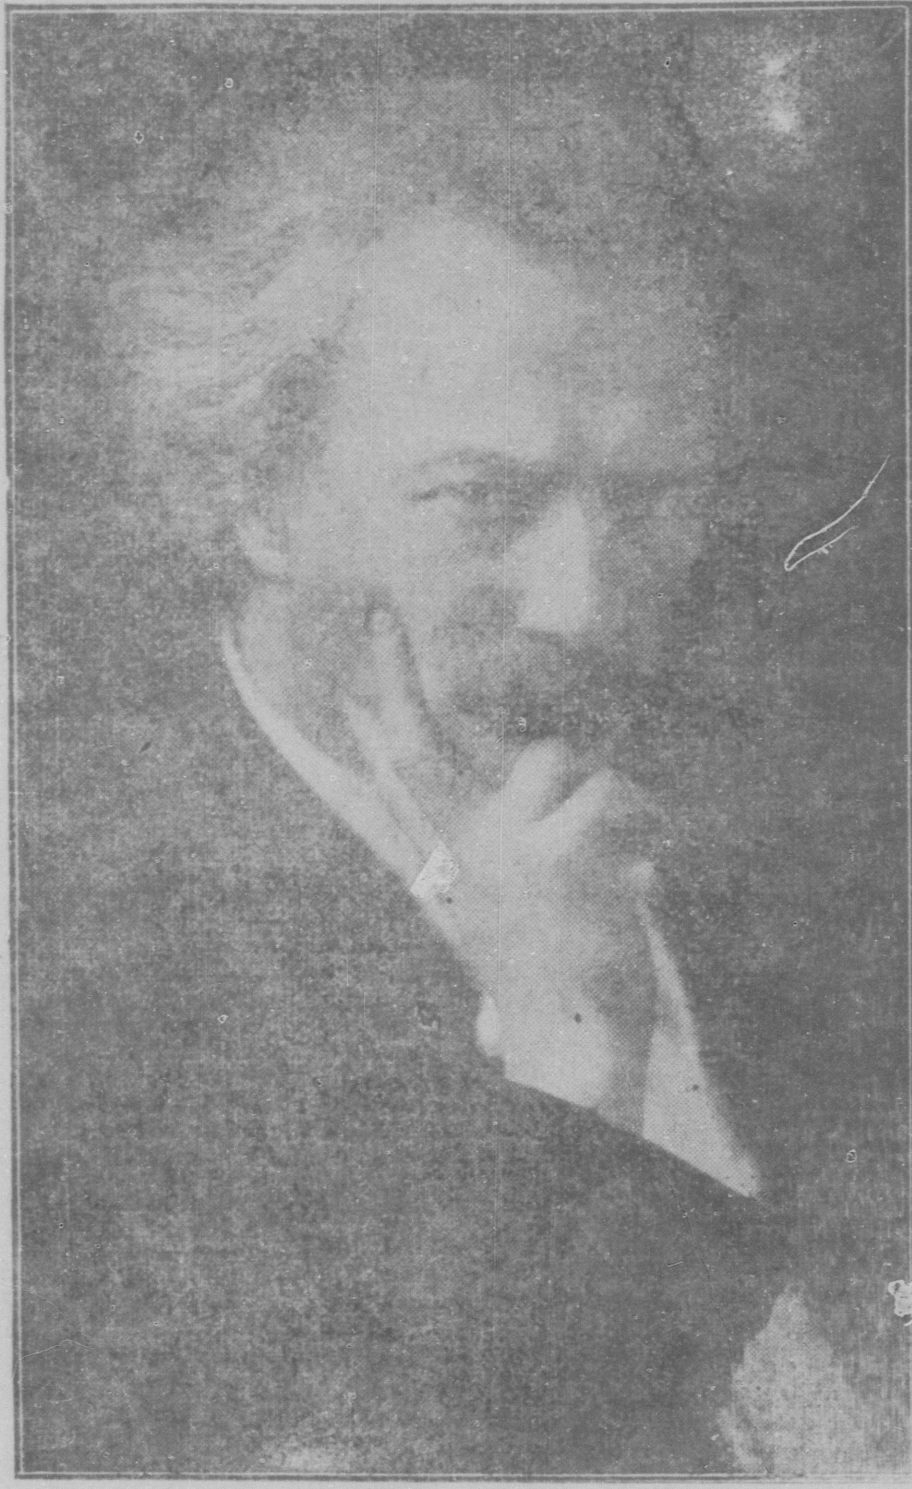

It is the final opinion of the S. E. that an hour with Mrs. Cantor is better than the movies.

PADEREWSKI CONCECRT AT PARAMOUNT TONIGHT

A concert by Paderewski, the greatest of all pianists, is always the principal musical event of the season wherever he may appear. The distinguished artist, now in America on his tenth tour of this country, under the direction of C. A. Ellis, of Boston, will give a recital in the Paramount theatre tonight at 8:15.

All accounts agree that Paderewski is now at the very height of his mature powers.

As there has been no one like him to compare with him in the past, even now is this the case. He is unique in the world of art, and no one, however remotely interested in music, can well afford to miss the opportunity to hear him. The tickets for his concert can be bought at the Paramount ticket box at 1 o'clock. There are about one hundred good seats left.

TENNESSEE SOLDIER TELLS OF MEETING PRETTY SENORITAS

Chattanooga, Tenn., Jan. 28.—Lieut. W. J. Hillis, well known Chattanooga physician, now with the hospital corps of the Third Tennessee regiment on the Mexican border, has written an interesting letter, in which he discusses the Mexican situation and incidentally tells of an interesting meeting with a Spanish priest and a bevy of pretty señoritas one recent Sunday afternoon.

Dr. Hillis tells his story as follows: "In a small town, on our way back to Pharr, from a hike, with the Seventy-fourth New York regiment, I was approached by a bevy of pretty señoritas selling tickets to a beneficio for their Mexican church in the town of Mission, fifteen miles from Pharr. Later on in the day I recalled the purchase, hunted up the tickets and with Lieut. 'Pete' Gaffney, rode over to Mission and attended the bazaar. I gave us a splendid opportunity to see these people at their best, and so study them at play. The affair was given at night in a small vacant lot, and considering the poverty and the crude ideas of the Mexicans, it was very creditable. The little booths were in arbors of wild ferns and foliage and each presided over by the prettiest collection of señoritas it has been my pleasure to see. After entering the wire enclosure we exchanged a dollar each of the 'Banco' (bank) for a number of round pieces of cardboard with amounts from 10 to 50 cents inscribed thereon. This 'money' we spent on various attractions.

"A real Mexican meal was served, consisting of chile con carne and a number of mysterious dishes. The meal looked queer, but eatable, still we refrained from experimenting. "It was our good fortune to meet the pastor of the flock, a sad, humble, strikingly handsome Spanish priest, who warmed up to us immediately, and talked freely of his struggles to better the conditions of these very unreliable people. He was very well educated, spoke excellent English and unlike most natives of Mexico, he was willing to talk of Mexican politics. This man has 500 Mexicans under his charge, all very poor, very irresponsible, thinking more of pleasure than of their spiritual and temporal welfare. He conducts a school and keeps the church and school going by sheer efforts of desperation and privation. He came to Mission a year ago, after living for eight months neglected and forgotten in the vile old prison of Matamoros. He told us of the bitter persecution of all good clergymen in Mexico by Carranza. That Carranza is opposed to all religions, and imprisons all clergymen who refuse to become his tools. He told us that Carranza is a horribly bad man, possessing a fairly good education and a splendid stage presence, but as corrupt as Villa himself.

"It is his opinion that Carranza will not be able to make himself strong enough to control affairs across the line. He seemed to favor a friendly protectorate on part of the United States, but was in doubt as how best to accomplish this. He attributes the difficulty to do much for these people to the fact that practically all Mexicans are largely of Indian blood, very irresponsible, deceitful and unable to comprehend, and yet, be hind civilization."

TWELVE HUNDRED ATTEND BIBLE CLASS ROYAL PALM PARK

The missionary program of the Presbyterian Sunday school was carried out yesterday with one exception, Mrs. Lansdell and Mrs. Nisbet sang a duet instead of the Lansdell quartet as announced.

Mrs. Monroe made a very interesting talk about the missionary work being done in Jacksonville. Mrs. Lansdell's talk about China was very instructive and interesting.

Mrs. D. S. Carrington is organizing a young married ladies class for the school. The young ladies class recently organized is growing rapidly and it has emphasized the long felt need of a young married ladies class. This class will be started next Sunday.

The Tourists Bible class was addressed yesterday by W. S. Witham of Atlanta, and although the weather looked threatening for a while the sun came out and there were something like 1,200 people in the park listening to his very interesting address.

Mr. Bryan will be in the city and address this class next Sunday morning at 9:30 in Royal Palm park.

MOOSE OF DAYTONA TO HAVE OWN HOME

Daytona, Jan. 28.—What is said to be the largest lodge of Moose ever organized in the state of Florida was instituted in this city Wednesday evening when more than 300 members were enrolled in the Loyal Order of Moose, Daytona Lodge, No. 1263, formed through the efforts of Organizer G. H. Jordan. The new lodge includes in its membership many of the well known business men and citizens of Daytona and vicinity.

The installation of the lodge took place at the Masonic hall on Orange avenue, and so great was the crowd that standing room was at a premium. The installation was in charge of Acting Supreme Dictator R. L. Sparkman, of Tampa, with delegations from Palatka Lodge No. 1401 and Jacksonville No. 455. The Palatka delegation consisted of "C. A. Hardy, past dictator; Frank Davidson, acting dictator; A. S. Cook, steward; J. E. Steel, acting sergeant at arms; Harry Berner and E. J. Godbolt composed the Jacksonville representatives.

The officers selected to preside over the new lodge for the present are as follows:

Past Dictator—David Sholtz. Dictator—Dr. G. A. Klock. Vice Dictator—B. B. Baggett. Prelate—Edward Archibald. Treasurer—Elmer W. Livingston. Secretary—W. S. Snead. Outer Guard—Frank E. Spina. Inner Guard—J. Roy Parramore. Sergeant at Arms—C. A. Gontz. Trustees—W. C. Smith, G. H. Foote and R. S. Maley.

An important feature of the meeting was the appointment of a committee to select a location for a home for the lodge and make a report at the next meeting which will be held in Masonic hall next Tuesday evening.

"WHERE ARE MY CHILDREN?" AT HIPPODROME THREE DAYS, BEGINNING TODAY

Mrs. Phillips Smalley, whose name in filmdom, Lois Weber, ranks with the greatest directors in the profession, and whose success confutes any argument of woman's inability to fill posts in man's field.

There may be a question about the ability of woman to fill man's place in some of the walks of life, but if you get to arguing the question, with anyone in the film world "why" you will meet a swift rebuff, for the immediate example to prove the woman as great moving picture directors as men will be offered in Lois Weber, as she is known to the profession, of Mrs. Phillips Smalley, as she is known in private life.

Lois Weber has continued to film such notable features as "Hypocrites," "Scandal," "Jewel," and, last but not least, the wonder picture which will make its initial appearance in Miami today, Tuesday and Wednesday, at the Hippodrome theatre, entitled: "Where Are My Children?" dealing with the universally discussed subject of birth control.

"Mrs. Smalley is well known as a producer," declares a prominent New York critic. "Her former successes have given her fame, but I prophesy the glory she will gather from her latest creation, 'Where Are My Children?' will place her on a pedestal with the foremost directors of the world, for the delicacy with which she handled such an extremely daring subject proves her the sterling artist that she is."

Mrs. Smalley is a practical idealist, a woman who, through long experience, has learned the tricks of the trade. Knowing what is mechanically attainable, she does not write scenarios calling for impossible effects. Her ideal is to bring the screen into closer relation with life.

E. N. Jenkins who has had charge of the local recruiting station for several weeks left last night for Key West to join his regiment.

WASHINGTON ON WILSON'S POLICY

The great rule of conduct for us, in regard to foreign nations, is, in extending our commercial relations, to have with them as little political connection as possible. So far as we have already formed engagements, let them be fulfilled with perfect good faith. Here let us stop.

Europe has a set of primary interests, which to us have none, or a very remote relation. Hence she must be engaged in frequent controversies, the causes of which are essentially foreign to our concerns. Hence, therefore, it must be unwise in us to implicate ourselves, by artificial ties, in the ordinary vicissitudes of her politics, or the ordinary combinations and collisions of her friendships or enmities.

Our detached and distant situation invites and enables us to pursue a different course. If we remain one people under an efficient government, the period is not far off when we may defy material injury from external annoyance; when we may take such an attitude as will cause the neutrality we may at any time resolve upon, to be scrupulously respected; when belligerent nations, under the impossibility of making acquisitions upon us, will not lightly hazard the giving us provocation; when we may choose peace or war, as our interest, guided by justice, shall counsel.—From the Farewell Address.

MUST BEAR EQUALLY

If all that we hear is true, there will be some fearful and wonderful bills presented to the incoming legislature, when it meets in April.

Following out the idea of a certain secret organization and the intimation in the governor's inaugural address that measures were to be taken to inspect "all closed institutions," it is said that bills will be introduced to secure the occasional search of many of the organizations against which the measures are especially aimed.

Of course any action of the kind, in order to be equitable and constitutional, and it will be measured by the federal constitution and not by the state, the yard stick will be handled by the supreme court of the United States, and not by the state courts, alone, must bear equally on all organizations which meet, for any purpose, behind closed doors.

We have many of them in this state, and up to this time no harm was ever suspected of any of them. The Masonic fraternity has nearly three hundred organizations, or lodges, in Florida, and every one of them meets in secret session at least once every month and many of them twice a month. The Knights of Pythias is a strong organization in this state and has many local lodges, each meeting, in secret, about every week. So with the Odd Fellows, who perhaps, number more adherents than either of the others. And then all along down a long list of other organizations like the Woodmen of the World, the Elks, the Moose, the Eagles, the different labor organizations and many where women are members; they meet regularly, behind closed doors, in sessions from which the public is excluded.

If some of the proposed measures should by any chance become laws it would be necessary for the grand jury, the sheriff, or whatever commission is given charge of the matter of seeing that nobody meets in secret for any purpose, to interrupt and inspect all these meetings, of whatever kind, so that the public may know the full measure of the iniquity that these heretofore reputable institutions are planning against the peace and dignity of the state.

We can imagine the state of things if such a law does find its way to the statute books. But if one is to be made against one or two organizations of the kind, it must be made and enforced against all.

MAY BE AN EXTRA SESSION

Some fears are expressed that it will be necessary for the president to call an extraordinary session of congress, to complete the delayed work on the constructive program which he promised the people when he first became president.

By good hard work, it was thought, this program could be completed when the present congress adjourns on the fourth of March. Contrary to expectation, however, since the holiday recess congress does not seem to have made much progress and at the rate measures are being disposed of, the program cannot be completed.

While the country very generally recognizes that the time is fast approaching when congress will remain in almost continuous session, yet there is a feeling that it would be as well for the country if congress would adjourn at the end of this session not to meet again until the fourth day of next December.

The country wants time to digest the measures that congress has passed and desires a few months rest from the continual changes that are being made in the business relations of the people consequent upon continual legislation.

It is said that the president is becoming impatient at the slow pace of necessary legislation and that he is urging greater speed. If that is not secured a special session may become necessary.

It has been proposed in congress that the newly purchased Danish West Indies be re-named and called the Dewey Islands, after the hero of Manila Bay.

CAUSE FOR DIVORCE

Kansas has an official who looks after those cases that come into court reason of disturbances in the domestic relations.

One of the most prominent of these officials in that state is a woman, and she is started straight for trouble when she announces, in a recent report, that the mother in law and the saloon are not responsible for nearly as many divorces as is popularly thought, in Kansas.

It is one of the canons of the prohibitionist faith that more cases arise from the drunkenness of the husband than from all other causes put together. But this officer says not so, and thereby she is bound to become very much disliked by those who lay all the woes and troubles of the world to the saloon.

She says that the cause which brings the largest number of couples into the divorce courts is the false ideas entertained by young girls as to the marriage relation. These false notions arise from the character of reading indulged in, which is amply supplemented by the moving pictures.

The young girl, she says, imbibes the idea that the young man she is to marry is a superlative hero, a prince, and when the realities of marriage disclose that he is just ordinary clay, she is disappointed and readily throws up her hands on the contract.

Perhaps this officer is right. What is needed is considerable enlightenment, both for young women and young men, before they enter a relation that is intended to and should continue for life, and which has in it all the discouragements and all the drawbacks that any other sphere of life presents to humanity.

AN ARTICLE TO STUDY

In another column The Herald presents an article, prepared by the Florida Natal Hay Association, for general publication throughout the state.

The object is to arouse among farmers and growers an interest in this most valuable forage plant and to induce growers to widen its acreage.

When it is understood that Florida imports, every year, something like ten million dollars worth of hay, and that that means just so much hard earned money is sent out of the state for a product which could be grown herewith but little effort and expense, comparatively, it can be very readily seen what it would mean that if not only that vast amount of money could be saved to the state, but what it would mean to turn the expenditure into a stream of profit.

It is the difference between just getting along, and wealth from one single product, which the association propose to in crease to such proportions as will make Florida one of the great hay producing states of the union.

With the production of hay, saying nothing of the returns in money it would bring from imports, would come a great development of the cattle industry, for forage product is the one problem with which growers have to contend.

The article would be closely read and deeply pondered by those who are attempting to find other products for profit than citrus fruits, and by those who are interested in the extension of the cattle industry.

DID NOT FOOL THE PEOPLE

With some hundreds of newspapers with correspondents everywhere, one naturally wonders why the war department was so secretive concerning its orders to General Pershing.

The indefatigable reporter announced many days ago that General Pershing would be withdrawn from Mexico, and the department denied the statement.

Newspapers gave the news several days ago that General Pershing was drawing in his outposts with a view to his march to the border. The department said that no orders for withdrawal had been issued.

Correspondents reported that the movement back to the border had commenced and had made some headway.

Then on Sunday, after General Pershing had proceeded on his way some twenty miles or more and the whole country knew it, the war department announced that orders had, that day, been issued for the withdrawal of the American troops from Mexico.

Either the department has been fudging on the proposition, or General Pershing just naturally picked up and started home without orders.

We know he did not do that, and we wonder why officials at Washington almost always treat the American people as children and refuse to give out information in which the whole public is interested.

Never in all the history of the city has Miami had so many winter visitors as at the present time, and the season has only fairly begun. Attention to Miami should be called to the fact that difficulty is being found in housing the visitors and the duty of all who may have an extra room is to place it at the disposal of the Chamber of Commerce, which is doing all that it can to accommodate all visitors.

A visitor who writes The Herald a communication going after the Christian Scientists, cannot have his communication published in this paper. He is going away, and we have to stay here.

Ten below zero is a much more convincing argument to the deluded negro who went north in search of better conditions, than all the talk in the world.

NATIONAL PRESS

Philadelphia Record

It is an interesting paradox, if one may accept the government's figures, that the spread of prohibition and an increased consumption of whisky go hand in hand. This will probably be denied by the cold water advocates, but the gain of nearly $24,000,000 in the revenue collected by Uncle Sam in 1916 from the tax on whisky points that way. These statistics require some explanation. Prohibition is not expected to eliminate entirely the drinking of hard liquor, but to lessen it greatly by the wiping out of saloons. It is generally supposed to do so, judging by the reports from states that have adopted this policy. Can it be possible that the people of those commonwealths where prohibition has not obtained are doing double duty in drinking, in order to overcome the losses sustained in dry territory?

LONDON NOW WELL DEFENDED

Anti-Aircraft Batteries and Anti-Zep Airplanes Highly Developed.

Just in what numbers and of what caliber are the anti-aircraft batteries with which London is now so well defended, is not known; but, because of the great value of high velocity and a straight trajectory for anti-aircraft gunfire, it is a pretty safe guess that there are many batteries of guns larger than the 3-inch.

Information is now available as to the new anti-Zep airplanes, and Lieutenant Faulkner of the Royal Flying Corps, who recently landed in New York on furlough, has given some details which agree with information we have received from another source. The problem has been to build an airplane with climbing powers sufficient to enable it to reach Zeppelin altitudes in time to meet the raiders and bring them down.

The latest machines are of comparatively small wing surface and are driven by unusually powerful engines capable of making speeds of 120 to 140 miles per hour. The increase in climbing speed in the past few months has been truly astonishing, having progressed from an ascent of ten thousand feet in six minutes to fifteen thousand feet in seven and one half minutes. The scouting service, both on the North Sea and along the east coast is now so effective that London is warned of the approach of the Zeppelin chasers to take the air and be in position for an attack before the raiders reach their objective. Various means are used by the air-men to bring down the enemy, the most effective of which is the incendiary bullet.—Scientific American.

HIS FAINT THE NINETEENTH

Every Time $10,000 Bail is Mentioned Witness Takes the Count

Isidore Markus, the failing genius, again took the witness stand today before Judge Landis in the Federal court and collapsed. "No 19," sang cut Bailiff No. 1 to Bailiff No. 2, and the second bailiff marked down Isidore's score.

Markus was testifying in the bankruptcy case of the Garden City Parlor Furniture company. He fainted first on Wednesday, when Judge Landis ordered him held in $10,000 bail for perjury. He was revived in the marshal's office. "Ten thousand dollars' bail," then murmured Deputy United States Marshal Howard in Isidore's ear, and Isidore flopped over once more.

He was taken to his home. Every time some one mentioned bail, which occurred frequently, Isidore was out for the count. So far, he has fainted nineteen times, and the judge is not through with him.

BISHOP CURLEY OFFICIATES AT FIVE SERVICES

Delivers Addresses and Confirms A Class of 60, Among Them 16 Adults

The Rt. Rev. M. J. Curley, D. D., bishop of St. Augustine, officiated at four masses which were held at the Church of the Holy Name yesterday, aside from administering the sacrament of confirmation to a class of sixty candidates, at 3:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon.

Bishop Curley made a brilliant address at each of the masses which was attended by a large congregation of representative people from every part of the country, and the manner in which the masses were sung were commented upon by a large number of the visitors.

The bishop spoke at the mass at 6 o'clock as well as the other two that followed at 7:30 and 8:30, and also at the high mass at 10:30 a. m., and at each of these the bishop held his congregation spellbound.

The confirmation service at 3:30 yesterday afternoon was particularly attractive and was attended by a large number. As a matter of fact, the church was packed with people at each of the four services where Bishop Curley officiated during the day.

Of the class of sixty, which was confirmed, sixteen of this number were adults. Bishop Curley will remain in the city until Tuesday.

OLD SPANISH TRAIL IS OPEN ALL THE WAY

Harry Locke Tells Anxious Motorist How To Get From California To Miami

Recently a resident of California, who desired to motor straight through to Florida, but was fearful that he might not be able to do so during the winter, when many highways are snow-bound, wrote to Harry Locke, field engineer of the old Spanish Trail, and received a reply from him which shed much light on the condition of the old Spanish Trail.

"There is nothing to prevent your starting on February 1st, as this line is open at all seasons," Mr. Locke wrote. "Local weather conditions are a thing that every community is subject to, and even the concrete roads in California do not offer very enjoyable motoring during storms, and occasionally bridges go out. However, at this season, the only route open clear across the continent is the Old Spanish Trail and there is not a single section of it that is not being used locally by the people along the route."

"After leaving San Diego you will traverse the fine mountain highway eastward for 100 miles and enter the Imperial Valley over twenty-five miles of solid concrete, where once was one of the worst trails in the southwest."

"At present the worst road you will have to contend with is 2 1/2 miles of sand after leaving Holtville. While it is hard going and experienced drivers deflate tires on this stretch, there is nothing to dread, as many persons travel it every day."

"From Yuma to Phoenix there is some splendid going in places and slow roads in others. It is a route that has been traveled by motorists for many years and also used in road races."

"Between Phoenix and Douglas, Ariz., you will find the state highway for the most part good going, and east from Douglas the road is very good to the New Mexico line, and then some forty miles of slow going is encountered. After reaching Lordsburg, N. M., you will find generally good, hard sand roads through Deming and to Aden and Mesilla Park."

"From Mesilla Park to El Paso is good gravel road and east of El Paso you travel over thirty miles of asphalt, to Fabens. The road from El Paso to Dallas will soon be hard surfaced all the way, but at present there are some stretches that become rather bad during wet seasons. But the people living along this route use it locally."

"You have an option of routes between Dallas and New Orleans, one by way of Shreveport and Baton Rouge, which is shorter but does not contain as much hard surfaced road as the one by way of Houston. By going by Baton Rouge it is not necessary to go to New Orleans, but a road leads to Hammond and Madeville and to Bay St. Louis."

"The Houston option, while longer, is better in wet weather and is very interesting. The people on both routes are welcoming motor travelers and provide for their comfort and needs. This is true all along the Old Spanish Trail."

"The inconvenient ferries east of New Orleans are fast being eliminated and in fact several of them can be avoided. Lake Pontchartrain ferry can be avoided by going by the Baton Rouge route, and the Pearl river ferry can also be avoided by going to Poplarville and Pass Christian."

"Along this part of the country you will be near the gulf, and the roads are principally sandy and moist enough to be good for autos. Many fine stretches of pavement and shell roads also exist."

"It is still necessary to ferry at Pascagoula, Miss., and at Mobile, Ala., but these lend a charm to the trip that will not be experienced by auto travelers much longer."

"From Fairhope, Ala., there is another option in routes. The one by way of Pensacola requires ferrying twice, while the one by way of Florenco, Ala., is on dry land all the way, and contains more miles of finished roadway. These roads come together at Crestview, Fla., and then there is only one way open for you—the one charted in the official guide—and I believe a careful study of the guide will convince you that there are no hardships to be endured on your journey."

"Personally I recently arrived from the Florida East Coast and made the trip to California without carrying food or bedding in the car, nor did I miss any meals or sleep out. Furthermore, I carried no extra oil or gas and never ran out. Once only did I carry water and then didn't use it, but it was a 'safety first' precaution while crossing the twenty-one miles of sand in California."

WARDS OF THE STATE AND THEIR PROTECTION

Bulletin State Board of Health.

What would a state commission of charities and reforms accomplish for Florida?

It is believed that possibly such a commission exists to a limited degree, in the constituency of the present board of state institutions, which it is understood is composed of the governor, the comptroller, the state treasurer, the attorney general, and the commissioner of agriculture, but have these gentlemen with the special duties of their several offices devolving upon them by the constitution of the state, time to devote an exhaustive study to the comprehensiveness of work of investigation of a commission such as has been mentioned.

There is no disputing the fact that they are all capable, intelligent and probably intensely interested in the subject of properly dispensing the charities of the state, and the necessary reforms of administration, but have they the time with their other duties to do this effectively and efficiently, so that results can follow intensive studies along these lines?

That there is need for such an organization has been on the minds of men who have the best interests of Florida in their hearts, for it is an idea that has been embodied in concrete form in other states and splendid results have been the outcome. Such a commission in Florida, as elsewhere, to do effective work, must be utterly divorced from politics, and as its membership would perform their duties without large salaries, and would select their own paid executive agents, the positions might not excite the cupidity of persistent and habitual office seekers.

The commission would have executive authority over all state institutions supported in part or in whole by legislative appropriations, such as the state asylum for the insane, the school for the deaf and blind and other similar charities, and over the state prison system, reform schools for both sexes already in existence and that may be created later. It would also have advisory supervision over the punitive systems of the various counties in the state, with authority to probe and investigate whenever conditions might suggest or require.

The supervision of conditions surrounding these wards of the state or the counties would be comprehensive. They would cover not only the physical well-being, the health, proper housing, clothing and feeding, but they would further include an oversight of the moral influences to secure the best final results such as should prevail in institutions under the authority of a Christian commonwealth.

In every community and state certain responsibilities are forced upon the body politic by the frailties of human nature. Of every thousand of population the law averages will produce a certain number of feeble-minded, a certain number of persons who cannot earn a livelihood because of lacking mentality, of sickness or crippled conditions, a certain proportion of petty law breakers and confirmed criminals, and a fixed number of paupers entirely dependent and helpless.

It is an economic necessity that these classes must be taken care of at public expense. Human sympathy and human nature will not allow the crippled and pauper to perish by starvation or exposure, even though such persons may have no legal claim upon the individual taxpayer, and though they may have reached their state of degradation directly through their own fault.

Society might be protected from the lawless classes, from the murderer, the thief and the highwayman, and the jails and prisons afford such protection. Yet the state has not the right to confine even the criminal in prison and deprive him of food and shelter, for though lawless he is still a human being. Nor has the state the right to shut such criminals away from all wholesome moral influences. In fact, the modern penologist insists that the state owes it to the criminal and to the state itself to provide for the best possible security for health conditions, and for the sick, the best medical or surgical treatment. Statistics show that of the negro convicts in Alabama, Georgia and Florida, from sixty to seventy-five per cent are affected with syphilitic tendencies, inherited or acquired, which proportion, of course, includes many advanced cases. Such convicts before and after their terms of imprisonment associate with other members of their race and the contagion

SYRUP OF FIGS FOR CROSS, SICK, FEVERISH CHILD

If little stomach is sour, liver torpid or bowels clogged.

Mothers can rest easy after giving "California Syrup of Figs," because in a few hours all the clogged-up waste, sour bile and fermenting food gently moves out of the bowels, and you have a well, playful child again. Children simply will not take the time from play to empty their bowels, and they become tightly packed, liver gets sluggish and stomach disordered.

When cross, feverish, restless, see if tongue is coated, then give this delicious "fruit laxative." Children love it, and it can't cause injury. No difference what ails your little one—full of cold, or a sore throat, diarrhoea, stomach-ache, bad breath, remember, a gentle "inside cleansing" should always be the first treatment given. Full directions for babies, children of all ages and grown-ups are printed on each bottle.

Beware of counterfeit fig syrups. Ask your druggist for a 50-cent bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," then look carefully and see that it is made by the "California Fig Syrup Company." We make no smaller size. Hand back with contempt any other fig syrup.

necessarily is spread. Prison confinement affords opportunity for treatment which civil life renders impossible. It is an opportunity that is not urgently improved in any of the states, so far as reliable reports indicate. A commission charged with an intimate oversight of prison conditions could insist on such remedial treatment, which would immeasurably improve the health of convicts and have large influence on health conditions outside of prison camps.

What is true regarding this disease might be repeated concerning several contagious. And society itself would be the gainer.

The state of Florida has been liberal in its provisions for the relief of its cripples. It has been less progressive in its care of the criminal classes, but this weighty problem is likely to be worked out through a series of years to such conclusions that the consciences of good citizens may be relieved of the present heavy burden of shame.

But under the existing penal system there is pressing necessity for a responsible supervision. A commission with executive powers, composed of responsible men with active consciences to guide their work, would secure a higher humanitarianism, especially toward the criminals of the state, and this result would work out better things for the criminal classes and would accomplish much for society itself.

NOTICE OF INTENTION TO APPLY FOR LETTERS PATENT.

NOTICE is hereby given that the undersigned intend to apply to the Governor of the State of Florida, on the 7th day of February, A. D. 1917, for the issuance of Letters Patent, to "THE DEEP SEA MYSTERY, INC.," upon the proposed charter of said company, as hereinafter set out.

CHARLES H. THOMPSON.
JOSEPH TRIMBACH.
FRANK B. SHUTTS.

CERTIFICATE OF INCORPORATION OF THE DEEP SEA MYSTERY, INC.

THIS IS TO CERTIFY, that we, the undersigned, do hereby associate ourselves into a corporation, pursuant to the provisions of the laws of the State of Florida, providing for the formation of corporations for profit, for the purposes and with the powers hereinafter mentioned; and to that end we do by this, our Certificate, set forth:

First: That the name of the corporation is "The DEEP SEA MYSTERY, INC."

Second: That the place of business of said corporation shall be Dade County, Florida, and such other places, and counties in the States of Florida as the nature and progress of the business of said corporation shall from time to time render necessary or desirable. Said corporation shall also have the power to conduct its business in any or all of its branches, and have one or more offices outside of the State of Florida, in any or all of the several states or territories of the United States and in the District of Columbia, and in any or all foreign countries.

Third: That the principal office of said corporation shall be located in the City of Miami, Dade County, Florida.

Fourth: That the general nature of the business to be transacted by this corporation shall be that of operating and maintaining an amusement and exhibition business, including the public exhibition of extraordinary and rare fish and other denizens of the sea; the purchasing, renting, leasing, mortgaging, selling, holding, and otherwise acquiring and disposing of real estate and personal property situated or located in the County of Dade, or any other county in the State of Florida, or any other state in the United States; the purchasing, owning, holding and selling of all kinds of contracts in writing, leases, options or other instruments, evidencing any and all rights and interest in and to any real estate or chattels, or choses in action, including the power to exercise all rights of an owner or owners thereof. Said corporation shall also have the power to borrow such sums of money, at such rates of interest and upon such terms as may be deemed necessary or expedient; to execute such notes, bonds, debentures, trust deeds, mortgages, or other evidences of indebtedness for security, as the case may require for the payment of the amount or amounts borrowed or owing by such company; to buy, hold and sell certificates of stock, bonds, mortgages, notes or other evidences of indebtedness, and while the holder or owner thereof to exercise all rights incident to said ownership; to build and repair boats and their engines, accessories, supplies and equipment of every kind and character; to rent and charter boats, marine supplies and equipment; to adopt and prescribe By-laws, Rules and Regulations appropriate for the transaction of the business of said corporation and the execution of any of the powers conferred upon said corporation, either by the terms of this charter, by law in express terms, or by implication, and to amend the same, and to do and perform all other acts and things which may be necessary or desirable in carrying out the full intents and purposes of this corporation.

Fifth: The amount of the authorized capital common stock of this corporation shall be One Hundred Thousand Dollars ($100,000), divided into one thousand (1,000) shares of One Hundred Dollars ($100) each, all to be issued fully paid and exempt from assessments. Said stock or any part thereof may be paid for in property, labor or services at a just valuation, to be fixed by the incorporators or by the directors of said corporation at a meeting called for that purpose.

Sixth: That the term for which said corporation is to exist is fifty (50) years.

Seventh: That the business of said corporation shall be conducted by a Board of Directors, which shall consist of not less than three nor more than seven members, as the same may be provided for by the By-laws of said corporation, and the following officers, viz.: A President, a Vice-President, a Secretary and Treasurer; provided, that the same person may hold the offices of Secretary and Treasurer. The members of said Board of Directors shall be elected at the annual meeting of the stockholders of said corporation on the second Monday of the month of February, of each year, and said officers shall be elected by the members of said Board of Directors on the same day, at the same place, and immediately ly after the election of the members of said Board of Directors. The names of the officers who are to conduct the business of this corporation until those elected at the first election are qualified are as follows:

RUSSIAN SHELLS ARE POLISHED

There's a Reason for Apparent "Fussiness" of Inspectors.

It is reported that the Russian inspectors of American made ammunition are amusingly fussy with their requirements. The surfaces of the shells must be highly polished, a fine tool finish alone being insufficient. The story goes that when the shells are all ready for shipment the inspectors take cloths and polish them till they shine like a door knob; and if a speck of lint remains the shells are rejected.

A correspondent of the American Machinist says this is not as ridiculous as it sounds. "Possibly you will recall," he says, "how the skate runners used to stick to your mittens

SAYS MOORE HAVEN FOR CELERY

Upon visiting the Moore Haven section, it did not take long for Mr. F. F. Dutton, of Sanford, to make the statement that this is the section of Florida for celery, and after several trips and much close observation and research he bought 320 acres.

Associated and interested with Mr. Dutton is Mr. N. A. Colbert, also of Sanford. They are both specialists in the celery business and are among the largest producers of this vegetable in Florida. At present they are heavily interested in and around Sanford and are cultivating lands that are worth $1,000 per acre, and on these lands they are putting yearly from two to three hundred dollars worth of commercial fertilizer.

Mr. Colbert has moved to Moore Haven and brought with him celery experts. They began at once with a large force of men and now their seed bed of many acres is in perfect shape and their success is far beyond their expectations.

Mr. Colbert says: "I never knew that such fertile lands existed, although I have been in the truck business for many years and in all parts of the country. The fact that I have seen this new country has made me dissatisfied with the other sections and I could never be pleased anywhere else, and I am happy to say that my dream has come true and I shall make Moore Haven my home, where I shall devote my entire time to the producing of truck and celery."

Every Day a Growing Day.
The very fact that every day is a growing day in this great Okeechobee country means that your lands are never idle, as is the case in the colder climates. From two to four crops can be grown on the same land per year. Also it means that you can so regulate the harvest of your crops that they will command the topmost prices of the market. You can be independent, even though the cost of living continues to rise, by having vegetables and food stuff growing each day for yourself and family. Join the producers ranks by buying land at Moore Haven, thus you can help to reduce the high cost of living by increasing the percentage of producers.

ners used to stick to your mittens when, as a boy, you went skating on a snappy cold winter morning, down on the mill pond in the home town. If some country humorist persuaded you to 'taste' the runner, you will certainly remember. The Russians assume that any of the shells made in this country may have to be handled in weather much colder than any you or I have ever experienced. The handling is done by soldiers who are equipped with sheep's wool mittens, very thick and loosely woven to resist extreme cold.

"If the shells are highly polished, the soldiers have learned that a little dexterity in breaking loose from them makes it possible to let go without much trouble. But if the surface is full of tool marks or rough spots, considerable of the mitten is left sticking to each shell handled, somewhat

ROBERT NIVELLE—the New Commander of the French Army

General Nivelle—From a painting by Jean Baptiste Guth

Personality and Military Career of The French Officer Who Succeeds "Papa" Joffre in France—His Great Work On the Aisne and At Verdun.

Copyright, 1917, by The International Syndicate.

IT is evident that the Allies do not believe in the old adage "Never swap horses in the middle of a stream." For three countries have changed their commanders during the greatest campaigns of the war. Early in the conflict Russia deposed her leading general and placed a new officer in charge of the Czar's forces, and less than a year ago the English ordered Sir John French to step down and out in favor Sir Douglas Haig. Now General Joffre has been retired by France and the army put under the leadership of General Robert Nivelle, the man who is given credit for the holding down of the Germans at Verdun.

This move has been expected for some time by those who have studied the European situation closely. The change did not come because the Government considered that Joffre had failed in his duty to his country, but because they felt that he was playing too much of a waiting game and from the fact of his refusal to sacrifice his men when other military men thought that great drives should be made even at the risk of lives.

Ever since the beginning of the war "Papa" Joffre, as he is affectionately called by the French, has been regarded as the real brains of the Allied armies and he is today the idol of France. He will retire with fame for he is to be made Marshal of France—an honor that has not been conferred upon any person since the days of Napoleon III. A number of French literary men and diplomats of the Entente Powers will shortly present the new Marshal with the Field Marshal's baton and a sword of honor. Marshal Joffre will always be remembered as the hero of the Marne, and his name will go down in history as one of the greatest fighters for La Patrie.

Younger of Generals.
His successor is among the younger of the elderly French generals, for like the great military strategists of the German army France has found that age and experience have served to develop the genius for military tactics and that those best able to uphold the strength of the army and bring out its best efficiency are those whom passing years have developed into great leaders and able tacticians. So practically all of the generals of that country are well advanced in years.

General Nivelle may be called the Adonis of the French army. Time has dealt gently with him, and although he is fifty-eight years of age he could be taken for a man not more than forty-five. Erect in stature, tall and dignified in bearing, he is almost a perfect illustration of what a soldier should be in physique and manner. He is of that blond type of Frenchman so rarely found in that race, with stern features indicative of a strict disciplinarian and yet with a suggestion of a kindly nature which bestows generous consideration when that is the proper thing to do. A closely cropped mustache fits in with an abundant head of hair, cold, piercing eyes, his strong mouth and chin—all combining to portray a character far beyond the ordinary and one that believes in action rather than in words or bravado.

Regarded As Perfect Man.
He has kept himself in this excellent physical condition by exercise and proper diet. He rarely smokes and only occasionally does he take wine. He is "hard as nails" and can stand a great amount of exposure.

General Nivelle is not given to gold lace and is rarely seen wearing the gaudy dress uniform of the French general. Even when at headquarters he wears the plain gray-blue uniform without a single decoration except the three silver stars—the insignia of his rank.

Early in life he determined to be a soldier and began his military education while still a small boy. Before he was ten years of age he knew all the military terms and spent his time in laying off army maps. Today he is an all-around soldier, being both an infantry and artillery expert as he attended St. Cyr before going to the Polytechnic schools at Fontainebleau and Samur, besides the War College. He has had a long and successful military career and is somewhat of a diplomat as well as was shown in his work when he was sent upon an important mission to the Emperor of Korea. He served in the Indo-China campaign and later in the French Colonial Wars—notably in Algeria, where the greatest tact was required in handling delicate situations. In this he became known as "the man with the velvet glove and hand of steel," so polite and firm was he in his demands. The General is a fine horseman—an accomplishment that serves him well at present. He is the holder of a number of medals for superiority in riding, several of which were wrested from his German, English and Italian competitors at military riding meets.

Partly English.
His ancestry is partly English, his mother having belonged to a Kentish military family who were literally brought up in the service, and he seems to have inherited this love of military life from the maternal side of the family. The fact that he is partly English makes his appointment particularly acceptable to the British. General Nivelle speaks English fluently and is fond of Americans and has been especially civil to the American correspondents who have visited him at headquarters, and always reminds them of the thankfulness of the French for the American Ambulance Corps and the splendid work they are doing for his country. A widely traveled man he has learned to judge human nature and soon learns the limitations of the men under him and acts accordingly. He also knows the men of the French colonies as well as the men at home, and how to bring out the best that is in them on the battlefield.

While he is a man of iron where orders are concerned he is much beloved by his men who have implicit faith in his ability to win. He affectionately calls them his children and his "little braves," and compares his army at Verdun to the Old Guard of Napoleon. When at headquarters he never seems to have an idle moment, for there one finds him bending over maps and issuing one order after another, yet he is never too busy to listen to his men. One of his iron-clad rules is that when an officer makes a report condemning some act or movement of troops he makes it a point to pay no attention to the "knock" unless the one reporting it can suggest a remedy.

Promotion Rapid.
At the beginning of the war he was plain Colonel Nivelle, but the incident of the Aisne made him a Brigadier-General over night. When hostilities began he was in command of an artillery regiment which completely destroyed a German artillery group in Alsace and captured forty-four guns. His great work, however, came at Aisne when the Germans were attacking the French in serious ranks. Then Colonel Nivelle decided to try unheard of tactics and put his regiment of artillery in advance—an astounding change in military tactics, for rarely, if ever, does the artillery go before the infantry in war. The Germans were astonished at the audacity of the thing and charged forward only to beat a hasty retreat leaving many dead and wounded on the field. Colonel Nivelle then attached horses to his guns and followed up the retreat with artillery. The next day he was promoted to the rank of Brigadier-General. His next exploit came in January, 1916, at Soissons when the German offensive began on the Marne. In that attack the men under him practically wiped out two German regiments.

His sudden changes in military tactics several times proved a surprise to the German forces and won victories so unexpected to the French that he was given higher commands and was sent to assist General Belin at Verdun. Later he assumed command and after weeks of fighting succeeded in checking the army of the Crown Prince and being given the sobriquet of the "Victor of Verdun."

Although military operations at this point began months before, the time from October 24th to November 2nd was one of indescribable fury, when men of both armies were mowed down by great guns like wheat before a reaper, and the world stood aghast at the slaughter of men. Later, the fighting was slower and the French captured Douaumont. General Nivelle in making his report on October 17th wrote the following:

"Twenty-seven months of war, eight months of fighting at Verdun have affirmed and confirmed every day the superiority of the French soldier over the German soldier. Artillery of exceptional power will master the enemy's artillery and open the road for the attack. The preparation in every detail is perfect—as perfect as possible."

All through the campaign he was continually praising the work of his men and encouraging them to stand for La Patrie. His men obeyed him with a dog-like devotion. Their belief in his knowledge of things military gave them an abiding faith that he would lead France to victory. So the battle was won and the victory at Verdun stands out today as a marvel of co-ordination, and the credit for bringing this state of affairs about is given to the man who is now in command of the entire army. There is a feeling among the Allies that General Nivelle will again do something big and drive their enemies from French soil.

N. Y. HAS GOLD OVERFLOW

Federal Vaults Choked With Money and Space May be Sought Elsewhere

The federal treasure chests in this city have become so choked with gold that storage space may have to be arranged either in other cities or among the local banks. The vaults of the sub-treasury are filled to overflowing with 519 million dollars in bars and many more millions in coin. The assay office has 100 millions, and there is room for only about 35 millions more.

As J. P. Morgan & Co. expect at least this much gold to come from Canada within a month, it is plain that either room must soon be found in bank vaults or the gold inflow will have to be diverted from New York.

A WOMAN SPEAKER IN OREGON

Mrs. Thompson Presided Over House for a Few Hours.

Salem, Ore.—A woman presided over the Oregon house of representatives today for the first time, it is said, in the history of the state, when Speaker Robert N. Stanfield retired shortly after the session opened and turned the gavel over to Mrs. Alexander Thompson, who held the chair until noon. It was as "Mrs. Speaker" that members asked for recognition and introduced their bills. None of the fifty-nine men on the floor lit a cigar during her rule.

FISHING WAS GOOD YESTERDAY FOR THOSE WHO VENTURED OUT

Many Captures Displayed At Two Docks Where Experts Foregather

(By W. S. Thomas.)

Fishing was good yesterday, although few tourists went out after them. Those who did, however, brought back good catches of kingfish, and these attracted much attention at the Royal Palm dock and the Elser pier.

A large whip wray was brought to the Royal Palm dock during the afternoon by the charter boat, Yuma, Capt. James Thompson, which returned yesterday from a ten-days' cruise among the Florida keys with Mr. and Mrs. G. Eichelberger and Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Forster, who are visiting in the city.

The whip wray was the largest that has been taken thus far this season, and attracted much attention as it appeared suspended from the fish rack at the dock, where a photograph was taken of it. It measured about five feet across and weighed several hundred pounds.

Many other varieties of fish were taken by the party, but these were not brought back. The other specimens included a large turtle which afforded the anglers any amount of sport. They caught sharks, barracuda, kingfish, grouper and other kinds of fish and returned very much elated over the trip.

Another good catch was brought in yesterday on board the charter boat, Nemo, Captain Riley, by Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Ten-Eyck of this city, who returned with eleven large cape kingfish that averaged about thirteen pounds each. There was one-half of a fish in the assortment which was bitten in twain by a large shark. Mr. and Mrs. Ten-Eyck fished for a few hours, but the water was too rough for their convenience. The catch was evenly divided by the couple as Mrs. Ten-Eyck proved to be a good fisherman.

GREAT PLANS FOR TOUR OF SPANISH ROAD

Trip Over Trail From Miami To Houston — Convention In Tallahassee

Secretary F. R. S. Phillips of the Tallahassee Boosters' Club is sending out letters in which it is stated that great plans are being made for the proposed trip on the Old Spanish Trail from Miami, via Tallahassee, to Houston, Tex., as well as for the Old Spanish Trail convention, which will be held in Tallahassee, May 18 and 19. The trip over the trail prior to the convention will be for the purpose of arousing interest in the movement.

The movement was started several years ago to establish a great transcontinental automobile route, this to follow as nearly as possible the old Spanish military road from Florida to other possessions of Spain in the southwest, and in this connection, the Old Spanish Trail Association was formed with headquarters in Mobile.

When it came to selecting a place for the next convention, both New Orleans and Tallahassee were contenders. Through concerted action, the latter city was chosen and the dates as stated above were selected. The association has used in the past a large amount of literature, showing to the cities and towns along the route the feasibility of the trail being a great automobile thoroughfare during the winter months when some of the transcontinental routes further north cannot be negotiated with a car.

Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Sturtevant, of Boston, are expected to arrive here on board the yacht, Gray Duck, from Palm Beach, where the Sturtevants have been spending several weeks. The party consists of Mr. Sturtevant and family and a few friends. The Gray Duck will remain here for several weeks.

Samuel Gedney's yacht, Evelyn, which arrived from the north recently, and which has been on a cruise to Palm Beach, reached Miami yesterday with the Misses Ferguson and a few friends on board.

The houseboat, Beach Comber, is lying in the basin at the Florida East Coast terminal dock with a party on board. The Beach Comber has been here for several weeks.

Crawford Fairbanks, of Terre Haute, Ind., who is here for the season, on board the yacht, Grenada III, went out for a cruise with a party of the owner's friends yesterday. The yacht returned to the Royal Palm dock late in the afternoon.

The yacht, Juliana, which belongs to J. Alvin Dowling, of Brookline, Mass., who is spending the season in Miami, was out for a cruise with a party of the owner's friends yesterday. The yacht went as far as Caesar's creek and for a cruise around Fowey Rock Lighthouse.

C. C. Stager and a party of friends from Hartford, Conn., are spending the season on Biscayne Bay and adjacent waters, on board the yacht, Tik Tok. The party returned yesterday from a cruise down the lower bay and among the keys. The Tik Tok went up the Miami river where the boat has a berth.

Mrs. Walter E. Flanders and a party of her friends were out for a few hours yesterday on board the Flanders houseboat, Nahmeoka. The party went to the cape and in the lower bay.

Mr. and Mrs. W. Gano, of Denver, Colo., spent several hours on a trip into the Everglades on board Captain Young's charter boat, Ava, yesterday, and returned to the Royal Palm dock much pleased with the trip.

Messrs. C. D. Craig, of Watertown, S. D., and Fred H. Siegel, of this city, went out on Captain Moller's boat, Waho, yesterday, and returned with a good mess of fish.

CHANGE IN HOURS OF PUBLIC CONCERTS

A change in the hours of the band concerts by the Royal Scotch Highlanders has been announced by the Chamber of Commerce band committee, the reason for this act being that the commerce body does not desire to interfere with previously arranged musical programs and other entertainments.

Hereafter the morning concerts will be from 10 to 11, the afternoon concerts from 2:30 to 4:30, and the evening concerts from 7 to 9.

CHAMPION COMES HERE AS RECRUITER

Army Man With A Reputation Is Also A Boxer of Great Note

Few men of the squared arena have such a following as Bob Roper, heavyweight champion boxer of the United States army, who has arrived in Miami to take charge of the local recruiting station. Not only is he popular among the men of the army, but also with the greatest fight fans of the country.

Bob is a sober and hard working boy and nothing stands in the way of an upward climb, it being one of his ambitions to excel in the manly art of self defense. His chief thought however is preparedness, else he would not be in the recruiting service.

Asked about the good old U. S. A., Roper said it offers the very best opportunities for men between the ages of eighteen and thirty-five years.

Bob is twenty-three years old and has served five years for his country, having put in three years on foreign soil when he held the heavyweight championship of the east.

Since his arrival in the states he has defeated such men as Jack Hemple, Al Kimblich, Terry Keller and Sailor Carroll, and also trained with Fred Fulton, who, Bob says, will be the next heavyweight champ of the world.

Roper recently boxed a five round exhibition with Fulton. The fans were undecided as to which was the cleverer of the two. Bob was much smaller than his opponent but delivered the goods.

He is out with an open challenge to any man to meet him here, merely for the entertainment of the tourists and local fight fans. Last winter he was seen in action at Daytona by many persons now in Miami when he went up against one Terry Keller who did not have a look in.

BUILT FIRST ICE FACTORY IN FLORIDA

Atlanta, Jan. 28.—Solomon Benjamin, said to have built the first ice factory in Florida, died at his home here, today, after a lengthy illness, at the age of seventy-two.

Mr. Benjamin was a confederate soldier who came here thirty years ago and became the president of a large ice manufacturing company.

YACHT GLADIOLA ON ITS WAY HERE

Daytona, Jan. 28.—A trim 70-foot yacht, the Gladiola, of Blue Hill, Me., owned by Coburn Haskell, of Cleveland, O., and Thomasville, Ga., arrived Wednesday afternoon about 5 o'clock and tied at the concrete bridge wharf for a week or ten days at Daytona.

The Gladiola is under charge of Captain C. D. Yborra, who was here last year in charge of the yacht Eaglet. He brought the boat from Maine several weeks ago as far south as Jacksonville and has been awaiting orders at that point until the first of the present week, when Mr. Haskell and party came to Florida for a cruise along the east coast. The trip from Jacksonville has been made in the past two days including a stay of several hours at St. Augustine Monday. The party is on its way to Miami but will spend several weeks along the coast visiting the principal towns in the same way, as its members are now enjoying a week in Daytona and vicinity.

The Gladiola is a very neat and graceful yacht and is fitted in splendid and comfortable style. It displaces 43 tons, is 70 feet long, 14 feet beam and draws three feet of water, making it a boat of good proportions for cruising in local waters. The boat was designed by Whittelsey and Whittelsey and launched in 1911 by the Hudson Yacht and Boat company at Nyack, N. Y. It has been so well kept that it has every appearance of being a new craft. Its motive force is made by two 6½x8 Sterling, four-cylinder engines and it is capable of going more than 15 knots per hour.

WOULD PREVENT HIGHLANDERS FROM PLAYING

At Any More Dances At Casino —Chamber of Commerce To Take Action

At a meeting of the musicians' union yesterday morning, it was decided to exonerate the Royal Scotch Highlanders from all blame in connection with playing for a dance at the Collins casino Friday night, in violation of union rules, but to stipulate that the band should play no more for dances.

Notification to this effect was served on Roy D. Smith, conductor of the Highlanders band, and by him the story was related to officials of the Chamber of Commerce, by whom the band is employed.

It is understood the musicians' union will offer to provide a band for any dances the Chamber of Commerce may desire to give, at a stipulated price as provided in union rules, but it is considered doubtful if this will meet with the approval of the directors of the Chamber of Commerce, according to statements by some of them last night.

According to the view of Chamber of Commerce officials the dance at Collins casino in no way interfered with the employment of members of the union here, as had it not been that the Royal Scotch Highlanders were employed there would have been no dance.

The directors contend that it will not be practicable to employ the local musicians for the dance, since the dances probably would not be as largely attended as if the Scotch Highlanders played, and whatever there might be of possible profits would be paid to the local musicians instead of going into the band fund.

It is considered probable that the directors of the Chamber of Commerce will hold a meeting tonight at which consideration will be given to the questions raised by the musician's union, but it seemed evident last night that they would not consider for a moment the giving of dances at which other musicians than the Highlanders would be employed.

FOR 3 SOLID YEARS THIS MAN NEVER ATE OVER 1 MEAL A DAY

Boilermaker Wasn't Able to Work for Years Until He Began Taking Tanlac.

"Three years ago I had to give up my trade on account of bad health, and during all that time I wasn't able to strike a lick of work until I took Tanlac," said G. W. Adams, recently. Mr. Adams is well known in Atlanta, where he lived for eleven years and followed his trade as boilermaker. His present home is at Stockbridge, Ga., where he has lived since his health failed, three years ago.

"My troubles," continued Mr. Adams, "have caused me untold suffering, and cost me many a dollar. I have all kinds of empty medicine bottles at my house, but treatment nor medicine did me any good. In fact, the harder I tried to get well the more serious my condition seemed to get until I began taking Tanlac. My stomach caused me a world of misery. I wasn't able to eat more than one meal a day for three solid years, and I had to be very careful then about what I ate. I couldn't keep anything on my stomach, scarcely, and what I did retain would make gas and give me the worst kind of spells of heartburn. My kidneys were dreadfully out of order, too, and I had very little control over my bladder. I was constipated all the time and my head ached me constantly. My joints ached and hurt me so terribly I couldn't sleep, and I lost so much flesh and got so weak I couldn't work, and was forced to give up my job."

"Yes, sir, I honestly believe if I could have had Tanlac I could have kept working right along, for I have already gained ten pounds and feel better than I have in three years, and I have taken only two bottles of the medicine. I'm now working every day. I now have perfect control over my bladder, my kidneys never trouble me at all, my appetite is fine, and my stomach is in good shape. I can eat anything I want and as much as I wish. I enjoy my three regular meals a day and I haven't a sign of indigestion. All the pain has left my joints, and I sleep like a child every night. I'm not constipated now, and my head never aches at all."

Tanlac is sold in Miami exclusively by Miami Drug Co., in Ft. Lauderdale by Beck's Home Drug Store; in Homestead by Homestead Pharmacy; in Goulds by W. H. Canley in Princeton by Drake Lumber Co.; and in Silver Palm, R. F. D. Princeton, by Wm. Anderson.

FOURTH ROBBERY REPORTED FROM R. R. STATION

Another robbery occurred at the local railroad station, yesterday afternoon when a passenger had his pocket picked by a sneak thief who secured $150 in cash and a return ticket to the north. The matter was reported to the police but the name of the victim was not recorded on the police report.

Yesterday's theft makes the fourth that has occurred at the depot in the past week and the identity of the thief or thieves has not been learned. The police are confident, however, that the one who has been doing the robbery is an expert crook and is from one of the big cities in the north.

MAKING MONEY

Some men make their money in business—some in stocks—some by toilsome saving of their daily wage. But we submit the unquestioned fact that more men have reached a comfortable competence through the ownership of property, houses and land which bring in a regular dividend or income—than in any other way.

AND IT WILL TAKE CARE OF YOU

A splendid example of this sort of investment is to be found at Moore Haven, and such an investment may be had there now at the most reasonable prices. Every once in a while you meet people who will say that "Had they known that prices would be as they are, they would have bought," and today at Moore Haven there are those who have said as quoted before, but this time they are getting in on the "ground floor" and are going to realize the profits that they are entitled to and that they are assured of as a result of the genuine worth and value of the Moore Haven Country plus the fact that this is just the beginning of things there, and the prices of the land are far below

THEIR INTRINSIC AND ACTUAL VALUE

Land that is producing as this Moore Haven land is, simply cannot remain at the present prices, and will not.

THE RAILROAD WILL SETTLE THAT

Why not go there to settle yourself ahead of the railroad, or invest in the land, and when others come to settle later, after the railroad arrives, as is always the case, they will be buying at the high prices and you will sell at those prices, and there is no telling

---Removes the Cause

Do you know that chiropractic is based on the most scientific principles. No massage, no drugs, no operations.

We remove the cause of disease by removing the pressure from the nerves; hence the life-giving current is released to supply the limb or organ.

Seven years' experience with organic and nervous diseases furnishes conclusive evidence to me that spinal adjustment is the surest way to remove the cause of disease.

Don't give up in despair nor be discouraged by years of suffering.

If you have tried everything else and failed, then try chiropractic and get well.
